5. Plug cord into properly grounded outlet with the correct voltage and power requirement. Electrical shock may occur if appliance is not grounded properly.

If the appliance is being used as a COOKER, frozen foods such as soups, chili or vegetables can be brought to safe serving temperature (minimum 140°F) in less than 40 minutes using the maximum heat setting.
Place frozen foods into the recommended inset pan(s) and follow the preparation instructions that accompany the frozen food product.

9. Inset pans must be covered to maintain temperatures while food is not being served.
10. For the function of hot food holding, set the heat control to the desired setting. Monitor temperature regularly to ensure food safety.
11. During normal operation of food warming and holding, periodically check the water level. Add hot water when necessary and stir the contents occasionally.
